

Wilfley India Hosts Training Seminar

Last month, Wilfley India hosted a two day training seminar on pump maintenance and operation at their new manufacturing facility in Miraj, Dist. Sangli, India. Service engineers from all over India came to participate in the training and the feedback that was received afterwards was overwhelmingly positive.

The training seminar covered numerous topics including:

- Pump fundamentals and basic theory
- Effects of operating speed and suction head on dynamic sealing
- Assembly and disassembly of an A7 process pump
- Assembly and disassembly of an EMW® slurry pump
- Setting impeller clearances
- Setting the seal clearance on a DryLock® 2 static seal
- Pump and motor alignment

Wilfley's continued commitment to training and product expertise is yet another example of the value that we add and shows how we excel beyond our competition.
